Nurse Practitioner Margaret Mattice Joins Unity

Green Bay, Wis. – October 10, 2011 – Unity, leaders in hospice and palliative care, announced today the addition of Margaret (Marge) Mattice, MSN, ACNP-BC, CWON, to its clinical team assuming the role of nurse practitioner with an adult emphasis. The clinical team, overseen by Unity Medical Director Rance Hafner, MD, has seen significant growth since the fall of 2010.

Mattice will work with other members of Unity’s clinical team to oversee the clinical care and treatment of Unity patients by consulting and working with patients’ primary and attending physicians; helping patients and families achieve their care goals, managing pain and symptoms and educating and offering support. Additionally, Mattice will be providing clinical direction and guidance for Unity’s care programs and staff to ensure the maintenance of quality care for patients and their families.

Mattice has over 20 years of nursing experience. Prior to joining Unity, she worked at a local Wound Clinic and before that in emergency response as an Eagle III flight nurse. Her background is in social work and she progressively pursued educational degrees in the nursing field, achieving a Masters degree, while simultaneously working in the field.
